f. Military Allowances

25X1A

(1) Military personnel assigned by the parent service to CIA on permanent change of station orders to Washington [REDACTED] shall receive their military base pay, longevity, and subsistence and rental allowances in accordance with the policies of their parent service.

(2) For the purposes of this regulation the total base pay, longevity, and subsistence and rental allowances paid to military personnel by the parent service shall be considered as basic remuneration.

(3) Military personnel assigned to overseas posts of duty by CIA or their parent service for duty with CIA who receive their administrative support from CIA shall be eligible to receive in addition to their basic remuneration:

(a) payment for travel, temporary lodging, and related expenses in accordance with CIA regulations applicable to comparable CIA civilian personnel;

(b) the post allowances authorized for comparable CIA civilian personnel or their military station allowance, whichever is greater; and

(c) the difference between their military rental allowance and the quarters allowances for comparable CIA civilian personnel, if the latter are greater, in accordance with the following terms:

(1) if such military personnel are separated from their dependents by order of this Agency or their parent service for duty with this Agency, they may be furnished quarters, or a quarters allowance in lieu thereof, from this Agency as though they were unmarried civilians in the area of assignment, and may also draw military rental allowance from the parent service for dependents remaining in the U. S.

(2) if such military personnel are accompanied by their dependents to the foreign post of duty their civilian quarters allowance will be computed on the basis of their equivalent civilian grade with dependents, and they will be paid that amount which is in excess of their military rental allowance on an estimated expense basis upon their proper certification and accounting.

(3) if such military personnel are unmarried and have no other dependents their civilian allowances will be computed as though they were unmarried civilians.

(d) Acceptance of any overseas military allowances, except for those included in the basic remuneration, will be reported and accounted for to CIA and will be repaid or deducted from civilian allowances paid by CIA for the same specific purpose only.
